Slatington, Pa.

Foreword

"The past forever gone, the future still our own."

It required determination, ability and diligence to prepare young adults for a successful life, just as it required perseverance, skill and optimism to launch a rocket successfully. Our four years at high school were comparable to the four stages of a rocket.

Our freshman year laid the groundwork for our education. Our sophomore year allowed us to experiment with our new-found ideas. Our junior year reduced the distance we had to travel towards our ultimate goal . . . success. Our senior year molded us into finished products, ready to face an unconquered world, just as a rocket after much similar preparation is equipped to face the perils of the unknown.

Now we must seek new frontiers, as did our predecessors. We are the future.

*We Dedicate
to
Mrs. Bernice Hicks*

Mrs. Hicks is known to all as a language scholar and a world traveler, but to the Class of 1964, she is much more. We, whom she guided, consider her more than just a competent leader.

Words alone cannot repay her for her diligence, perseverance, and concern through our high school days.

Since a smiling face and pleasant personality have proven to be the outward manifestations of her understanding nature, we can be thankful for being blessed with not only a capable adviser but also a loyal friend.

With patience and foresight as her constant companions, she counseled us through our four arduous years in S.H.S. Because a simple "thank you" lacks the necessary eloquence, our way of attempting to compensate for our debt of gratitude is dedicating REFLECTIONS 1964 to Mrs. Hicks.

Workers

The Art-Layout Staff is engrossed in the work of choosing pictures for the Year-book.

Susie and Jim gab and measure and "crop" pictures all at the same time!

Under Pressure

Thought and concentration are apparent in the attitude of our artists who prepared all our division pages.

Members of the Literary Staff take a break from their busy schedule to pose for this picture.

"Never turn your back to the audience, Jim and Miss Miller. "But, we're a'workin!!"

In Memoriam

A President for Youth — J.F.K.

Our anticipation of a pleasant weekend was abruptly shattered by the tragic death of President John F. Kennedy. Students' usually-happy-go-lucky faces were transformed into masks of horror and disbelief.

His youth and virility attracted admiration and respect, not only from our generation, to which he presented so fine an example, but also from all people throughout the world. His faith in our potential was demonstrated through the establishment of the Peace Corps.

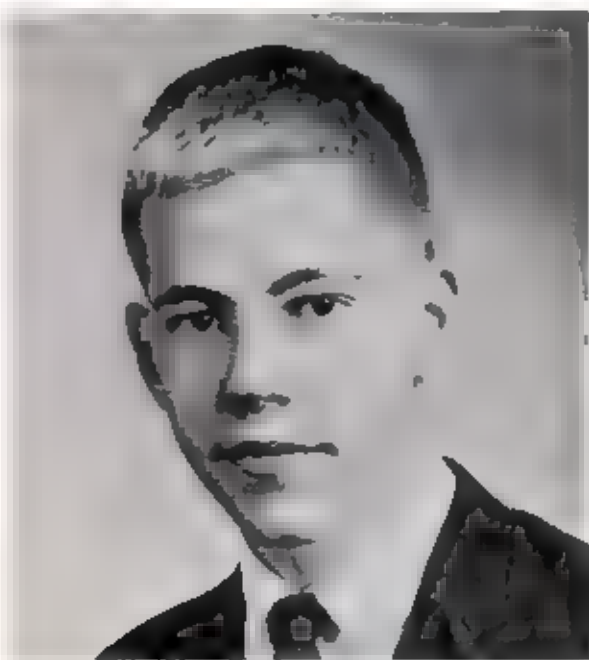

Whenever we reflect on the theme of our yearbook, "Space," we will associate it reverently with the memory of our late President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

Future Leaders

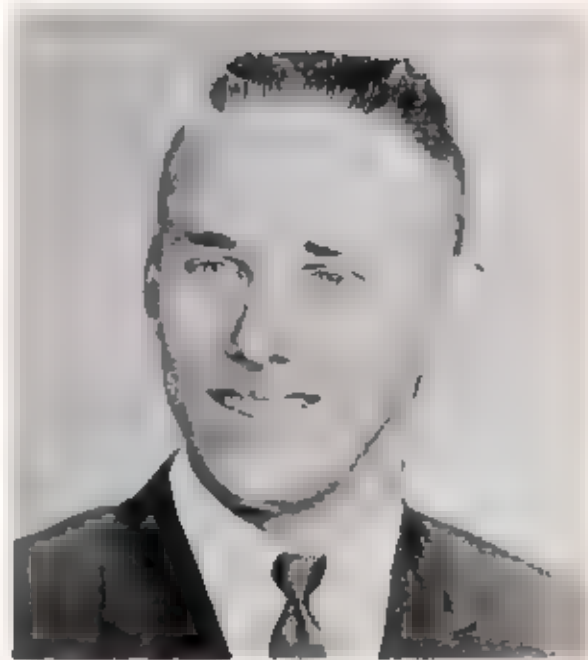

The innate quality of leadership was exemplified by these young leaders of our high school. They proved themselves capable of handling responsibility in a competent and thorough manner. The potential manifested by these young leaders will help to aid them in future success. We feel all our students will be successful—these will achieve excellence!

Cafeteria Caterers and Capable Custodians

Always smiling and ready to serve us; Mrs. Roth, Mrs. Zellner, Mrs. Easterday, Mrs. Harry, and Mrs. Rowlands stand ready for the lunch-period rush.

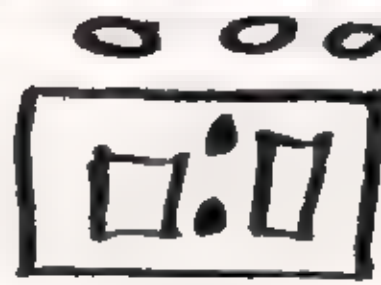

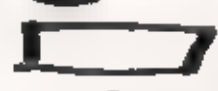

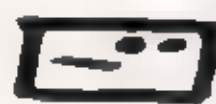

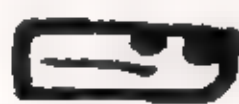

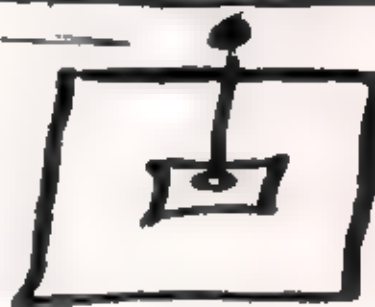

Ready and willing to work hard: Mr. Zellner, Mr. Evans, Mr. Brinkman, Mr. Snyder, and Mr. Jones pose before beginning their long day.

Mr. Russ Handwerk, our cafeteria manager, works diligently at his books and plans appealing menus for the students.

Miss Muriel Williams, Secretary; John F. Hower, President; Mark Thomas, Vice-President; and Herbert Kern, Treasurer.

Mr. Musso proved to be not only a stern disciplinarian but also a friend and confidante. Mr. Musso's departure will leave a void that will be difficult to fill.

Our capable supervising principal was a bulwark to our administrative staff and a valuable asset to the executive offices of our school.

Mr. Hagenbuch, as Junior High School Principal, enlivened the student's day with a jovial smile and a spirited remark.

In spite of all the intricate details, Mrs. Dietrich handles the payroll ledgers with ease.

Miss Muriel Williams has proved to be a competent private secretary to Mr. Snyder and to the Board.

Mrs. Deibert's jobs vary from the ordering of school supplies to the checking of attendance.

Our Cheerful, Efficient Office Staff

Our switchboard is efficiently operated by Mrs. Owens.

Mrs. Parry's duties are divided between informing us of daily activities and being secretary to Mr. Musso.

LAUNCH

*Final Stage
Seniors*

Graduating Class

Our efficient officers Robert Nothstein, President; Lee Phillips, Vice-President; Susan Kern, Secretary; and Brian Parry, Treasurer were a valuable asset to the Senior Class.

MOTTO: "The past forever gone, the future still our own."

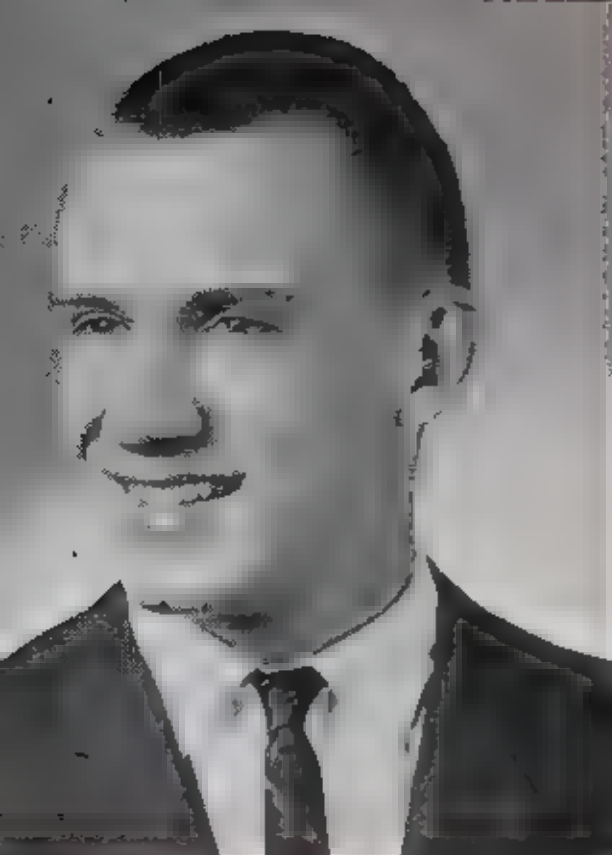

CLASS FLOWER: Peppermint Carnation

CLASS COLORS: Red and White

The Class of '64 has had quite a few ups-and-downs together in its more than four years at Slatington Junior-Senior High School. With good leaders as class officers, a couple of wonderful advisers, and a will to succeed in all things, we arrive at our goal—the end of high school—with a feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment, knowing that we have not been the best—nor the worst—class in the history of our school.

The congenial character and able leadership of Mrs. Hicks, added to the firm guidance of Mr. Snyder, have been of immeasurable assistance to our class during our years at S.H.S.

F A V O R I T E S

We'd better begin arrangements for our class reunion now. I hope you realize it's March 29, 1969; and in four months we will celebrate our first gathering since graduation. This will be a quite difficult task because everybody is scattered all over the United States with such varied occupations. There are quite a few colleges represented on this sheet, aren't there? I see we have quite a few recent graduates of Kutztown College here. Oh! There's Jennie Bleiler, the social studies teacher; John Griffith, the master of ceremonies on Candid Camera; Donald Eckhart, that fabulous artist; Howard Smith, the mathematician; Donna Oates, the most popular teacher at the Junior High School; and Denise Hughes—I imagine she will make an excellent elementary teacher—she was always good with children.

We surely have a well-groomed group. Look at this extensive list of beauticians: Karen Chandler, Darlene Kresge, Barbara Serfass, Sharon Semmel, Ginger Fritzinger, Pat Green, Brenda Grammes, and Kaki Turoscy. They are all top hair stylists in New York City with a reputation to equal that of any Parisian Stylist. Oh my goodness—look at this list—thousands which have become successful businessmen or secretaries for notable dentists, doctors, or corporations!

What a contribution Slatington High School made to the business world. All of our graduates were not only capable and efficient in high school but also have proved themselves five years later. The executives certainly discovered a group of able secretaries—Karen Schlosser, a graduate of Peirce, is a highly rated secretary for Merrill, Lynch, and Pierce in Philadelphia; Barbara Thomas works many diligent hours as a head recorder for her hometown church; Doneta Hughes, Donna Rae Stever, Diane Semmel, and Susan Zuk—all graduated with honors from Churchman Business School as private secretaries for leading business firms.

Are you finally completed?

No! There are quite a few dental and doctor assistants. Diane Krause, Connie Jones, and Kathleen McCann are earning approximately $100 a week in surgeons' private offices. Candace Reinhart, our only laboratory technician, is practicing her occupation at Mayo Clinic.

Oh, this is unbelievable! Did you know that Peter Ibbotson, our class clown, and Gerard Mummy, our frequent office visitor, have collaborated in establishing their own brewery? They have a second floor where they specialize in the production of church keys.

You would bring up a topic like that. Let's discuss something that is more of a service to the public, although a brewery is a necessary service to many people. Any person who has the difficulty in the operation of his car can rely on these able mechanics: Arthur Reitz, Richard Handwerk, Robert Henry, Howard Strohl, Gary Millward, David Scheffler, and Gary Warmkessel.

For whom are Darryl Dietrich and Lee Phillips working since they graduated from F&M College?

I think they have jobs with Dupont as research chemists. Right, Lee? Isn't Dupont near Sunset Air Force Base, the place where the strategic air command is testing Ron Hughes's new design for the application of Bernoulli's principle? He has been doing great since he was graduated an aeronautical engineer from Purdue.

Our class certainly answered the call of Uncle Sam. Every branch of the service is represented here: Air Force, Barry Acker and Floyd Hoppes; Dave Kern, Robert Anthony, Darryl Kirchner, Eddie Kroboth, Carl Leibenguth, and Lee Marsh have taken to the sea and become roaming sailors with a girl in every port—maybe even two! Although Terry Carlton, John Chandler, and Donald Olewine are not West Point graduates, they certainly proved themselves to be assets to the United States Army in South Viet Nam. The Marines build men, and they had good material to work with when Robert Holko, Norman Gaumer, and William Siegmund joined with them.

By the way, I saw Brian Balliet last night. Since he, Eric Steckel, and Ron Henry have graduated from Lehigh, they formed an engineering firm and are about to build an expansion bridge across Trout Creek.

Turn on the radio. Maybe we can hear Jim Kisthardt's latest symphony at Carnegie Hall. No, we better get down to business or we'll never get these letters sent. I'm getting a headache from constantly looking at all of these names. I could use one of these nurses now. We could produce our own program The Nurses with all these skilled and able nurses: Ginger Valora, graduate of Philadelphia General Hospital; Paulette Koch, traversing the Halls of Reading Hospital; Sandy Eberwein, graduate of Arentown General Hospital; Carol Hughes, graduate of Coatesville General Hospital; and Joan Hughes, Linda Schneck, Kathy George, Linda Hallman, and Carolyn Heiney all turned out to be practical nurses.

The Navy has invaded us! Look at this picture—Willard Boyer looks absolutely stunning in his Navy Captain's uniform accompanied by Wally Marschner, head of Radio Communications Abroad.

By the way, Mr. President, haven't you and Vincent Kern recently returned from a dramatic courtroom battle defending David Lienhard, a notorious Las Vegas playboy? Boy, Brian, you look tired out! Maybe it's because you have just returned from a hard day's work at General Electric. Isn't Dan Lilly a top notch statistician on their staff?

If we had started mailing these letters any later, we would have had to mail yours (Susan's) to Paris. Your dream finally came true, didn't it? You've been traveling abroad for the past years as a fashion buyer for Sachs Fifth Avenue. What a life! Nancy Rex's occupation as a housewife is certainly not to be belittled. She handles her children and her husband with the utmost skill. By the way, what happened to Cynthia Roth?

Class Prophecy

Oh, I just received a letter from her the other day. Cynthia, whom we all knew would be successful in crashing the journalism field with her ingenious rhetorical skill. She's presently employed by the New York Times.

If I recall correctly, these people here didn't attend a business school. I think they became members of the labor force immediately after high school. All employers who thrive on personal appearance and productive work had their needs adequately filled when Doris Jones, Karen Schmidt, Gloria Williams, Peggy Youse, Donna Phillips, and Barbara Wagner blessed their offices.

Talking about lucky people. The men who marry these girls will surely be blessed—just think of all those delicious home-cooked meals. Homemakers galore! Barbara Gellis, Sheila Gruber, and Phyllis Howell. I just read in the newspaper where Joanne Evans and Ruby Gogel took over Slatington's Steak Shop. There was a picture of Sandy Harry and Betty Hahn, gym instructors at the YWCA, flexing their muscles while drinking a glass of chocolate milk.

How about examining the agricultural part of our productive class? Mentioned here are Donald Bowers, a mechanic who fixes farm machinery; Joe Hadinger, a Texas oil man who has recently hired Gary Warmkessel to build him a barn for his shipment of cattle. They tell me that his land is worth half-a-million dollars, and Bob Shaw (his next-door neighbor) owns a larger ranch than his. Wow! What money they are making!

Let's change the topic and talk about some girls. Anyway, they are much more interesting and pleasing to the sight. Sharon Burke, the highest paid model, was shown recently on the cover of Vogue magazine, and she really looked fashionable! Oh, my goodness! This is unbelievable! Sharon Kressley, Barbara Jones, and Sara Jane Sterner are managers of an exclusive French shop in Hollywood, California. Candyce Mantz has turned into an official New Yorker, roaming the subways. Don't overlook the fact that she is a top-rated English teacher at New York University.

Glenn Reinsmith has become an electronics technician; and Sam Rau, a laboratory technician. Tom Bauer, Lee Arndt, Larry Smith, Paul Kirchner, and Kenneth Kuntz have just returned from a cruise around the world on a merchant marine vessel.

Some people like to be on the go, go, go, constantly; but then others are very well content behind a desk all day. But, who wouldn't be when you are piling a reward as these men are doing? They always excelled in their business subjects, but whoever expected Allen Rodenbach, David Frederick, and Larry Blose to become Vice Presidents of such world renowned corporations? James Roberts, that quiet bashful boy, has become President of General Motors. How time changes people!

Our only psychology major, Gail Strohl—graduate of Elizabeth College is assisting and leading a symposium which is developing a new method which will put leading psychologists to shame in a few years. Diane Pickel graduated from Prep School and has transferred all her credits to Smith where she is majoring in linguistics.

My good buddy, Larry Andreas, just graduated from Penn State. He told me he wanted to take his time in acquiring his credits because he couldn't resist the tremendous social life that surrounded him and the amount of trouble he could find to get into. "Carefree Lar." Remember all the nicknames he had! Our all-around sportsman, Robert Hoffman, has graduated from a college in Mississippi and has become an athletic director for a chain of hotels in Florida. And that once-upon-time speed demon, Tim Kern, has become a state cop. Imagine that! Maybe he was the one who fined Marshall Kern for exceeding the limit when he won the Indianapolis Race.

You all remember Larry Merkle, the milkman's son. Well, he built a dairy in Slatington, as large as Lehigh Valley Dairy, right across from Solt's gas station. Terry Minnich and Randall Pagotta have been hired recently as his accountants, so evidently he is doing very well. Walnutportians stick together where money matters are concerned.

Oh, what a shame. Marlene Neff, Geraldine Mack, Linda Flexer, Lucille Biege, Donna Skeath, and Linda Strohl have telegraphed telling us they won't be able to attend the reunion. Marlene and Geraldine are flying to Hawaii for their vacations and will be leaving in July. Linda Flexer and Lucille Biege are owners of a grocery store in Allentown and must fly to Florida to buy and order their fruit for the winter months. Donna Skeath and Linda Strohl are owners of Greens' 5 & 10 cent store and must fly to Japan to order their merchandise for next year.

My list is almost complete. I'm not sure of Richard Davis's new address in the Poconos. He has opened a basketball camp for all members of the Glove Trotters this summer, and Larry Roth has been traveling all year with a professional wrestling team. This busy type is always hard to contact.

We can't overlook Roy Rex who has progressed so rapidly in the field of business. Did you realize he's a Certified Public Accountant? Eugene Weiss and Donald Rumble have combined their skills in forming the world-famous mechanics agency of RUMBLE AND WEISS. The field of carpentry is not neglected. Ralph Hill has become a skilled carpenter who is much in demand, and Allen Jones has assisted him as his apprentice for three years. Do you remember Carol Miller, the one who loved exciting escapades? Well, she's in business with some skin-diving outfit, their private secretary and privateer diver off hours.
